

WE INVITE YOU TO JOIN THE INSTITUTE FOR ISLAMIC, CHRISTIAN, AND JEWISH STUDIES'

Fellowship for Teachers

What is the fellowship?

The Fellowship for Teachers is a seven-month cohort-based professional development opportunity for secondary school educators. Teachers explore religious difference in the classroom by attending to three key areas: curriculum, students' lived experiences, and teachers' perspectives.

ICJS Commitments

- Participation in a diverse adult learning community
- Access to a library of resources for teaching about religion
- Assistance in creating a project
- Stipend

Fellow Commitments

- Attend monthly meetings
- Attend half-day retreat
- Prepare, present, and share one original project (lesson plan, presentation, etc.) for your school
- Explore additional learning opportunities to build religious literacy
- Write one reflection essay

INTERESTED?

- Fellowship start date: October 2026
- Fill out the interest form at the QR code below
- Questions? Email Christine Gallagher, Program Director for Teachers & Schools:
cgallagher@icjs.org

Scan the QR code to learn more

